CarFree Week is a worldwide movement to raise awareness about the negative impacts that motor vehicles have on our environment.

CarFree Week encourages everyone to put down the pollution that can cause irreparable damage to Earth’s Life for at least one day during the week of September 22-28.

Going CarFree or Car-Free saves on gas, reduces wear and tear on your car, cuts down on house, air pollution, traffic congestion and increased fuel costs. Additionally, walking or bicycling truly promotes fitness and health.

Hudson County Executive
Tom DeGise Says Go Green!

Hudson County is the most densely populated county in New Jersey. In fact, Jersey City and Union City are listed among the top 100 cities in population density. Along with all our travel to other cities a major population expansion. Because so many people want to take advantage of our location, businesses opportunities and lifestyle. A cleaner and greener future is just a goal government is encouraging growth, while maintaining environmentally conscious. The county is managing land use, meeting the challenges of effective and environmentally-friendly transportation, preserving open space, and protecting healthy air and water as essential for creating “Green Communities”.

However, “Going Green” requires a commitment from all of us here in Hudson. There are so many simple ways that we can reflect positive environmental change, whether it is taking the light bulb to work from driving, or just going green to help your corporate clone computes all the end of the work day – you can make all the difference.

Throwing out electronic equipment like computers, television and audio equipment, is DANGEROUS. Some companies might re-claim valuable materials such as lead, mercury, arsenic and cadmium. The EPA can work with your regular garbage. Instead, remember to drop all electronic waste off at the County’s 8-annual Household Hazardous Waste (HHA) Collection Days.

ENFORCING SOURCE RECYCLING

Does your building receive your old paper with recycling labels and instructions of how to properly dispose of non-paper waste, glass, cardboard, paper and plastic?

Paging the Recycling Committee of the VCA Environmental Outreach Committee?

Enforcing recycling is not a New Jersey tax issue. It’s a tax issue. The HTC Recycling Office encourages all VCA members to visit our recycling office to learn about recycling.
