So rather than do individual agreements, the County felt it was best to do what I'll refer to as a global

Engineering and Material Testing Services.

Terracon Consultants, Inc. for Geotechnical

Improvement Authority approving a contract with

As you know, we had awarded the contract for the construction of the new High Tech High School. Upon advice of our construction managers, which is Mast Construction, there is a need for geotechnical engineering services and materials testing. The services include a lot of earthwork observation and related construction activities.

Terracon has been provided with the original project schedule and will remain on site daily during the earthwork activities.

I believe the earthwork activities alone is projected out at about $24 million.

It is projected by our design team that approximately 40,000 cubic yards of rock removal and blasting be done in addition to bringing in additional fill in the amount of 60,000 cubic yards.

In addition to the geotechnical they will be doing material testing, which some of the material in testing talks about the review of cast in place concrete, fabrication, some fabrication workup, test specimen, review of structural steel, metal decking, masonry, concrete laboratory testing, and on and on, fireproof inspection.

Terracon will also be attending project and construction meetings along with Mast Construction.

Compensation is based on a projected schedule of the project taking 28 months, although I believe their proposal and an average monthly fee of $55,000 a month is for a 22-month period.

Again, this is just a projected number because until they have the final plans and until the work actually starts, and then it's controlled by Mast Construction in terms of how much testing and schedules and everything else.

So we had pre-qualified Terracon back in, early on in the year. We have had experience with Terracon in the past. They have done good work for us. And Mast Construction also felt they would be good to perform this task.

So the above resolution provides the authorization to enter into the contract with Terracon for the Hudson County High Tech High School.

CHAIRMAN GALLO: Is there any discussion?

Authority authorizing entry into a partnership with First Tee New York, Inc. and participation in the First Tee Program at the Skyway Golf Course at Lincoln Park West, Jersey City, New Jersey.

We have been working closely with the First Tee Program, which is a division of the World Golf Foundation, and are responsible for introducing golf to young people.

The program that's proposed teaches more than golf. First Tee has developed its own curriculum. It's a First Tee life skills which teaches the young children the values, central values such as honesty, integrity, sportsmanship, self-discipline and giving them the confidence and life skills to pursue broader goals.

The Agreement called for the Authority to provide for a portion of the golf course facility to implement the Hudson County First Tee Program.

We will permit up to 75 students for the first season, and that's our 2016 season. First Tee will provide and pay for all of the staffing and supervision. This also covers some classroom training.

At some point they will be entitled to play up to 250 rounds of golf, but in most cases it could take a year before the kid actually sees the golf course.

Each student that registers, and right now we got about 25 kids that are interested, they pay First Tee a $50 entry fee, but that $50 comes back to the Improvement Authority or right into the golf course.

They are also committing to pay up front $10,000 to serve as partial funding for the six hitting bays we're putting into the parking lot. And that's where they will do most of the teaching with the kids.

Like I said, right now there is about 125 -- there is 25 students that have already registered for this season.

So the resolution before you authorizes that. And this is something we talked about in the beginning in the development of the golf course, to bring First Tee in, and that will work closely with Kemper. Everything here is at Kemper's discretion. In terms of going onto the golf course, it has to be in off-peak hours. And some of the facilities at the golf course would be maybe some classroom training inside the cart shed
